

The Orthopedic Center of St. Louis

Mark D. Miller, M.D., Shoulder and Knee Specialist

14825 N. Outer Forty Rd., Suite 200, Chesterfield, MO 63017 • 314-336-2555 • www.markmillermd.com • www.toc-stl.com

Dr. Mark D. Miller's reputation as one of the premier shoulder and knee surgeons in the region continues to grow year after year.

As patients are bearing more of the financial costs of their medical care, customer service expectations are rising. Dr. Miller and his staff clearly recognize that consumer trend and have set their standard "to exceed your expectations." The convenience to his patients of a full-service orthopedic center complete with a surgery center, MRI, CT scanner, and physical therapy with ProRehab cannot be underestimated.

Dr. Miller's surgical skills are recognized among the best, but most of his patients comment that his communication skills set him apart from other physicians. "I feel an obligation to inform my patients in an understandable way," says Dr. Miller. "I'll give several options for treatment and we tailor the care to the patient's individual goals, desires, and expectations. But sometimes it's the simple things like being on time for your appointment and listening intently that makes all the difference in the world with your clinic visit."

Dr. Miller is one of 10 fellowship trained orthopedic surgeons at The Orthopedic Center of St. Louis (TOC). Dr. Miller can be contacted at 314-336-2555. His personal website for injuries, surgeries, and therapy protocols is www.markmillermd.com. Other information can be found at TOC's website: www.toc-stl.com.